A world-leading innovator

Bio

With extensive experience in industry, I have a proven track record of driving innovation nationally and globally and present an excellent working opportunity. With a massive 39% increase in job adverts from 2016 – 2019, I have a proactive workforce with 70% of the population in employment.

I am a highly motivated team player, with demonstratable experience nurturing world-class teams – both Manchester United and Manchester City are in my portfolio.
